

Supply Chain Management Services

ADIL's experienced and knowledgeable Supply Chain team covers the full range of supply services for tendering and contract administration as well as drafting and implementing contracting strategies and procedures.

The full project support service includes management of subcontractors, implementation and management of project insurance policies and claims, and settlement of Variation Orders.

Contracting Strategies and Procedures

For clients who wish to develop or maintain a lean and effective organisation ADIL can, as a standalone exercise, develop contract strategies and tender exercises to add value to strategic, development and operational services.

We can carry out contract reviews covering a function, geographic area or asset and identify synergies with other operators to minimise costs. An added advantage is the support and input from ADIL's experienced operations and development personnel which add value and leverage throughout the whole process.

Joint Venture Contract Assistance

For non-operators we offer an objective review of commercial strategies, agreements and contracts, and compare what is being offered against industry best practice and current market rates.
